

Micki's Song

© 2008 Words & Music by Dewey Wallace

I could not run away
I wanted you to stay
But there was no time left for you
And nothing more that I could do
Now there is a hole
Deep & dark in my soul
And it makes me sad when I think of you

Why?
Why did you take her away from me?
There must be a reason I don't see
It's just not fair that she should go
Cause even now I miss her so
Why?
Why did you take her away from me?

The pain's so bad that's hurting me
We never had a chance to be
The brightest light that I ever knew
Was extinguished before it grew
You were so grand
Made me feel like a man
Now it makes me cry when I think of you

Why?
Why did you take her away from me?
There must be a reason I don't see
It's just not fair that she should go
Cause even now I miss her so
Why?
Why did you take her away from me?
